Foreword

To the annals of our own Alma Mater we, the Editors, wish to add the Lantern of '32. The work involved in its production has been a pleasure, and now we present it to you whom it most concerns—the faculty and students of Lambuth College. The years will flow on, the students will change, we of today will be of yesterday, and the Lanterns of tomorrow will grow brighter and better. Yet, we shall not envy their superiority, for our goal has been, not material greatness and ornamentation, but a Lantern whose rays, shining brighter and brighter throughout the years, will bring warmth to every heart. And, if, in those far away times this book brings a tender smile, or a gentle tear for the days which are memories, our goal will have been achieved and the greatest possible tribute to our efforts will have been paid.

*We take off our hats to you
Who chose to stand thru storms
And uncertain days and nights
To broadcast faith and wisdom.*

RICHARD ELLWOOD WOMACK, A.B., A.M., LL.D.

President of the College

Lambuth has been fortunate since its founding to have as director of its affairs a highly educated, cultured, and Christian man—Dr. Womack. He is regarded with respect and honor by scores of people and the faculty and student body feel for him a friendship and love that goes beyond mere admiration.

Those who have been in Lambuth for more than one year have learned to look on Dr. Womack as an attentive and sympathetic friend even when we approach him concerning the most trivial of our interests or problems. It is our wish that as Lambuth grows we, as students, may have the privilege of a closer association with our great leader.

W. S. EVANS

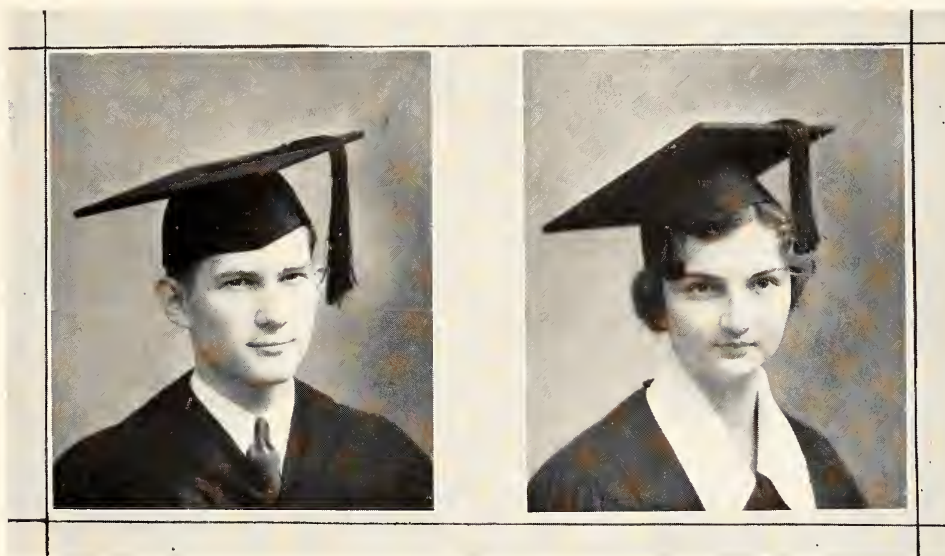

President of Student Body

Mr. Evans is the first student in the history of Lambuth to fill the office of president for two years. And we believe he deserves this honor, for during the period from '30 to '32 affairs of the college have been capably managed and have been settled in a just, impartial manner.

Perhaps Mr. Evans deserves more credit than we ordinarily assign him for at the same time he was conducting our student affairs he was attending to duties as head of a family, pastor of a church and officer in various other local organizations.

Mary Louise Brooks and Angie Sweatman have systematically kept the secretarial records for the student body organization during Mr. Evans' terms of office.

Emily Honey, Congratulations on putting out such a good Lantern. It is certainly the best ever. Emily I just adore you and just wish we had more like you in Lumbuth and in O. W. L. Happy indeed to have known you and surely hope this is not the end of our friendship. Remember, I love you just lots, Ben, R.

You'll certainly be missed next year. Lots of love, a friend Ben.

Dearest Emily,
 I can never say I admire

The Young Woman's Christian Association is one of the oldest and most beneficial organizations on the campus.

Every Tuesday morning, at the chapel period, all the young women in the college have the privilege of attending the meeting of this organization and receiving great help, spiritual and otherwise, from the well-planned programs presented there.

The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. have shown splendid co-operation not only in sponsoring some most worthwhile programs but also in enriching the social life of the college.

For those who are really interested in doing religious work, the Y. W. C. A., with its broad field extending into social service, world fellowship, and the like, offers a wonderful opportunity.

Y. M. C. A.

PURPOSE:

To share with young men the Discipleship of Jesus through Bible study, prayer, and faith in God; to direct them into membership in the Church; to unite them in service and fellowship with all Christians, extending the Kingdom of God throughout the world.

The club took in its new members earlier than usual this year, due to shortage of members, and much talent has been found in the Freshman class.

The organization has sponsored many programs and donated money to the Roll Call. Stunt nights and one act plays have been given frequently.

The club has also sponsored various acts and programs over the radio. This is a new line of work for the club, and has been quite successful thus far.

The three act play, a feature always looked forward to by the members of the club and of the school, will be presented in the early spring. It is a mystery-drama, The Full House.

You frequently hear of some big thing going over in a rather small way, but in the case of the current year's VISION, it has been a little thing going over in a big way.

Owing to the "repression or sump'n" it seemed at the first of the year it was going to be almost impossible to procure the printer's compensation, but Business Manager Swift made the impossible possible. After certain negotiations with Manager Terry, of the LANTERN, a contract was signed insuring publication of the VISION throughout the year.

The splendid co-operation of the staff has made this one of the greatest years in the history of the VISION. The students have been in such a clamor for the paper as it came from the press each time, that Circulation Managers Harrington and Smith, have requested body guards while they addressed the papers.

Reporters Miller, Jones, Gowan, and Peebles, by their detective methods, have brought to light much of the campus "lowdown" in the "Eavesdropper Column." Lemond and Brooks have kept us well posted on student activities. Sawyer and Bradley have furnished the thrilling accounts of our athletic events. Hastings and Fenner have seen that all society notes of interest were published. Mrs. Hicks has added much to the worth of the paper in the "Alumni Column." Council has made the Joke Columns a vital part of the paper. Spangler has secured many much appreciated papers from other schools. O'Hara has kept the students guessing in "Charlie's Cogitations" as has the editor in Charlie Jr.'s articles. Other contributors are Barnes, Arnold, and Ledbetter.

The Freshman Edition, with Ledbetter heading the staff, showed there is plenty of material for a great paper in the years to come.

The editor sincerely appreciates the efforts of all who have sought to make the VISION the paper of worth that it has been.

BASKETBALL LETTER MEN

WADSWORTH, Guard—A steady player with the responsibility of getting 'em off the back-board, and how he got 'em—a hard fighter.

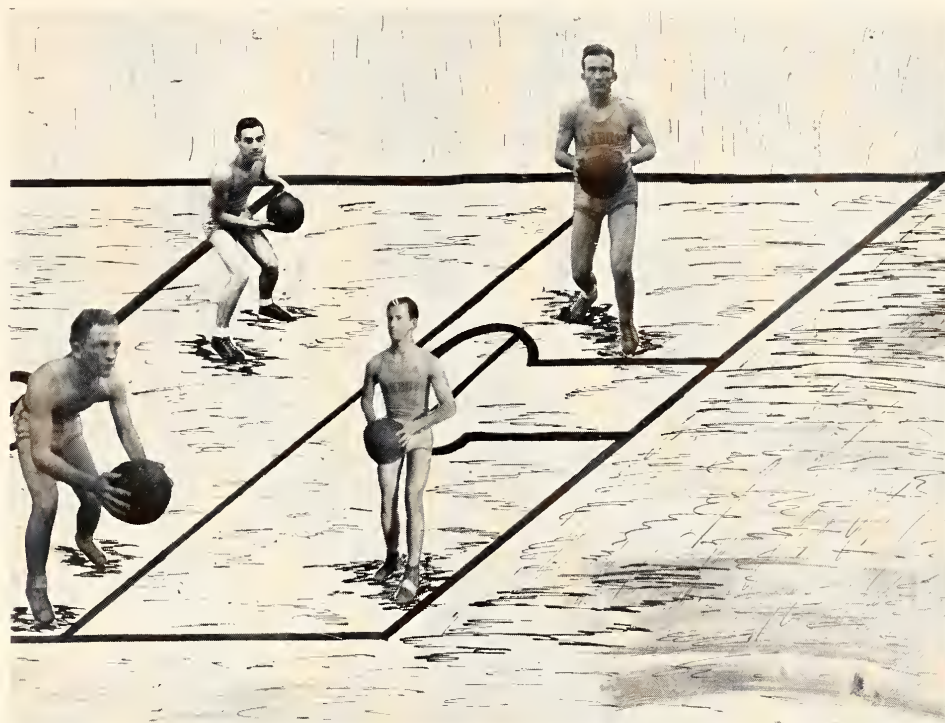

SAWYER, Forward—A fast floor man who kept the ball in Lambuth's hands continuously. He and Wads will be missed next year.

OLIVER, Guard—A consistent and sure player, who fed the forwards accurately.

EVANS, Center—"Fat" played basketball like he played football: Always plugging away, slow but sure. He'll be there next year.

RAMER, Forward—Earl was one of the best shots in the Conference. He seldom missed when he was in range. With the development of speed this year he will be one of the best next year.

SMITH, Guard—Coleman had a "habit" of knowing where that ball was going or coming and he was always right there to get it. He'll show opposing forwards how to take care of that ball again next year.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

The season '31 and '32 saw more men out than ever before. This year will prove very valuable to the team in that it will form a good foundation for next year. There were only two last year letter men, Gowan and Wadsworth, to start the season, but such men as Ramer, Evans, Winslow, Oliver, Nicholas, and Armstrong were developed. With Gowan to lead these men next year, the Eagles will be a sure winner. Gowan led the team with great skill, showing wizardry with the ball. Look out for next year!

GOWAN, Forward, Captain—All Conference forward in '31, one of the highest scorers in the Conference. He will fill the basket full for us again next year.

WINSLOW, Center and Forward—The best jumper on the squad. He seldom failed to get the tip-off.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Much credit is due Coaches Dawson and Caldwell for the splendid girls' team they put out this year. Placing girls on the first and second all Conference teams, the team showed what good players it had. Womack unanimously made all Conference forward, and led her team to many victories. All defeats were close scored, the tournament games with the champion Freed-Hardeman sextette ending with Lambuth only two points behind. They improved in a marked degree toward the latter part of the season. All the girls will be back next year. Hard luck, opponents.

WOMACK, Forward, Captain—Hazel seldom missed a goal, scoring as high as forty points in one game—high scorer of the tournament; a good sport who always played cleanly.

O'NEAL, Guard—A skillful player who thought out her moves. She was cool in the pinch—An inspiration to the other girls.

SPANGLER, Guard—Sarah showed her experience this year. She is a veteran who uses her skill to an advantage.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

MATTHEWS, Forward—"Izzy" was the fastest girl on the floor. Her floor-work was superb, feeding the ball to Womack consistently.

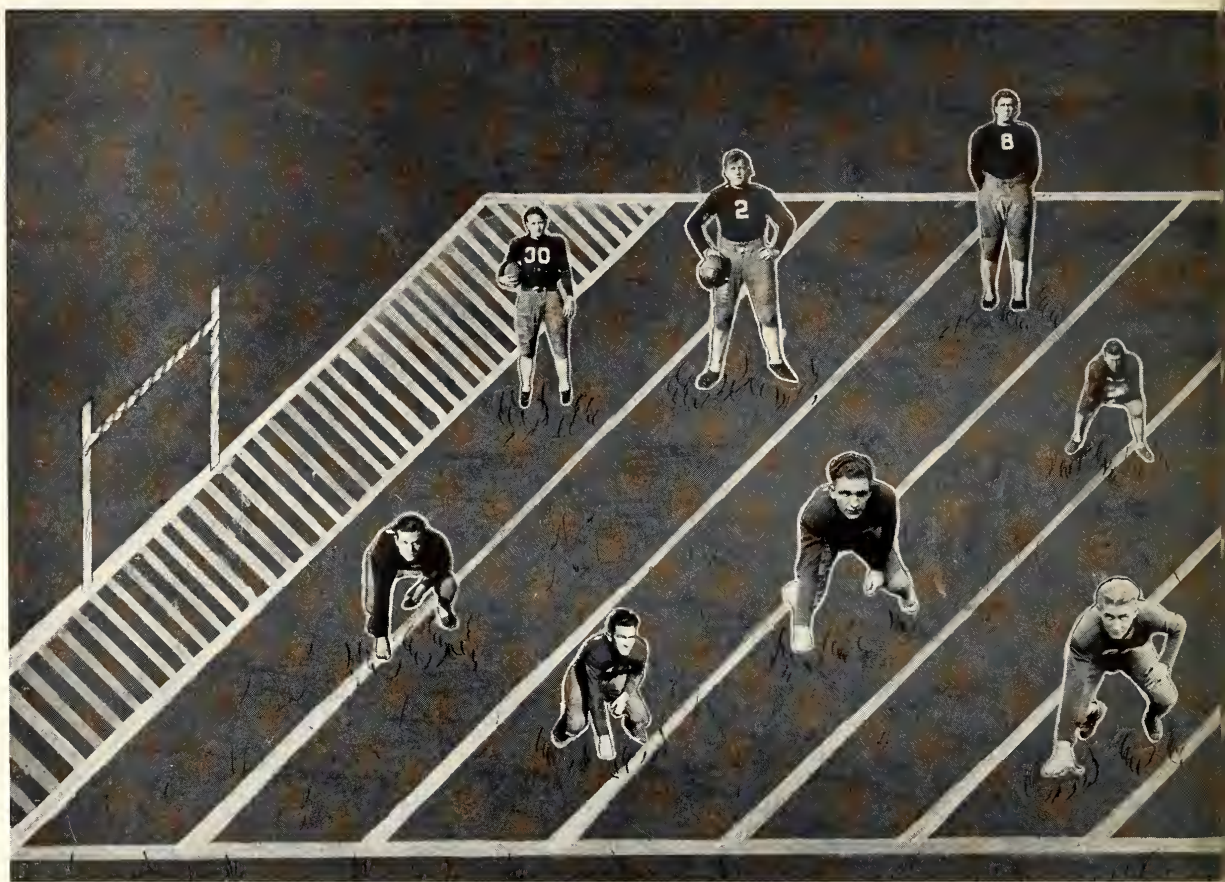

GARRISON, Center—Janet reminded us of Marie Queen in her playing this year and that's saying something. Here's hoping she'll shoot next year like she shot in the Bethel game in the tournament.

DOBBINS, Forward—A clever forward who developed rapidly. She will show us how to play basketball next year.

FLY, Guard—Becky was about the best guard in the Conference this year. She guarded anything and anybody. She'll make all Conference next year if she keeps the fight up.

BRIGHT, Guard—Janice developed into an excellent guard who with a little more experience will make any man's team. She'll have three more years to play.

NORMAN, Guard—Grace fulfills her name on the court to the disadvantage of her opponents. The Eagles need her next year.

FOOTBALL LETTER MEN

WADSWORTH, Tackle—Wads finished a brilliant football career this year, as about the best tackle in the Conference. Lambuth will surely miss him.

FERGUSON, Guard—Doug was Wad's running mate and their side of the line was impenetrable. Doug was a fierce tackler. He will surely make all Conference next year.

NICHOLAS, Center, Captain-elect—A little but fierce player. No gamer and harder fighter to be found. He will lead the '33 squad to many victories.

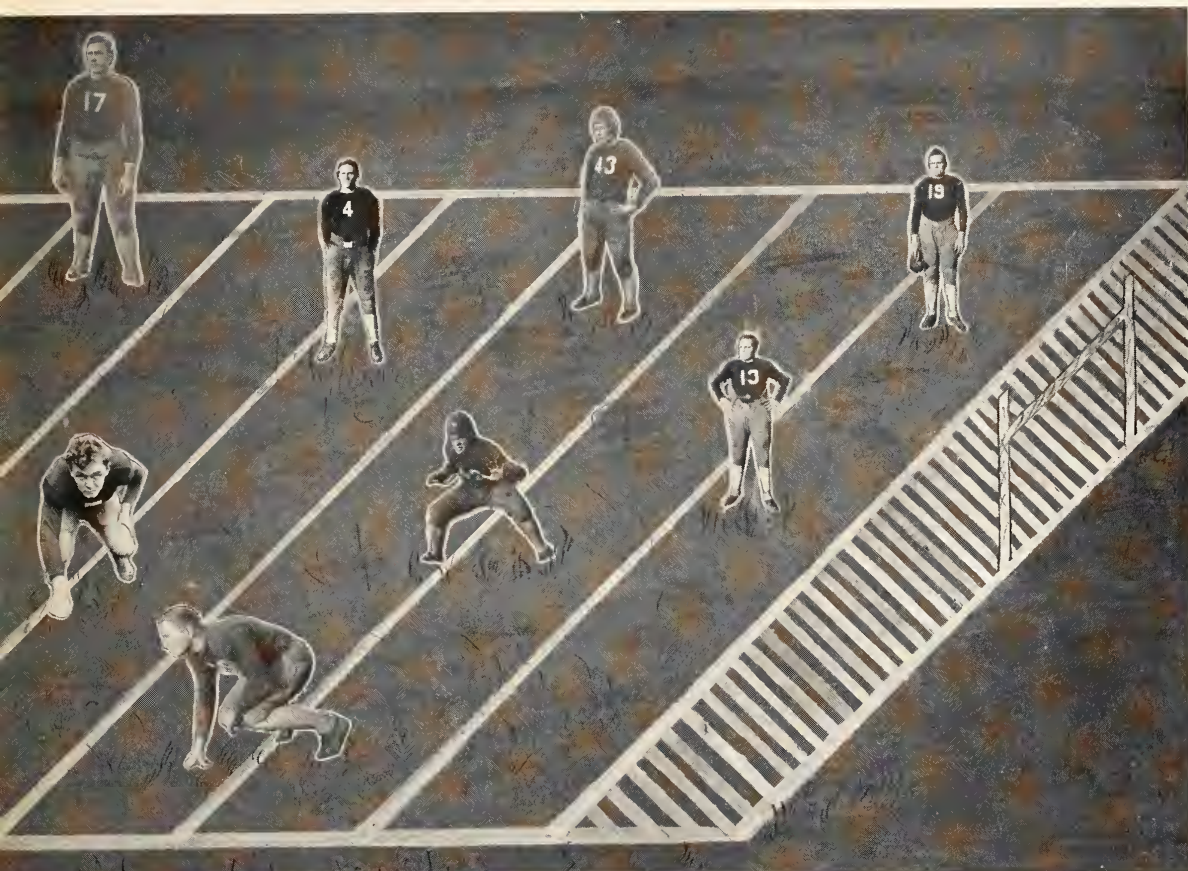

FOUST, Guard and Tackle—Ed didn't hit his stride at the first of the season but when he found it he was seen in the thick of every fight—a good man for us next year.

EVANS, Tackle—"Fat" surely plugged the line this year. A conscientious and clean player. He ought to have plenty of experience to make all Conference next year.

GOWAN, End—"Rabbit" was one of the high scorers of the team. His sure fingers and speed sent many a pass over the goal for a touchdown. Gowan uses his head to make a consistent player.

ARMSTRONG, Full and Half—Armie developed more than any man on the team. He was an excellent runner and a hard hitter. He ought to be a star next year.

OLIVER, End—Although Oliver never played end before this year he handled his opponents like a veteran at that position. "Tiny" will make another valuable man next year.

FOOTBALL LETTER MEN

CROWE, Guard and Center—J. R. was one of the gamest and best fighters on the squad. He gave his all, and with this year's training he will be right in there next year.

WILLIAMS, End—"Wire" put all he had into the game and showed what he was made of at Murray. We hope he is with us next year.

FAULKNER, Tackle—Played his first college game this year, improving by leaps and bounds. He will make the team with no trouble next year.

HICKS, Guard—A first year man who made good. "Bloaty" will make another good man next year.

MILLER, Captain, Quarter and Half—A triple threat man, a sure tackler and a good leader. "Cy" will be back next year to bolster the squad.

PARHAM, Half—The best ball carrier on the team, a shifty runner and an excellent "safety" man. We greatly regret losing him.

SAWYER, Half—The fleet-footed boy from Mississippi. We keenly regret losing this man. He gained every time he carried the ball.

CALDWELL, Quarter—A cool field general who used his head. Caldwell knows his football and will be there next year to help the team on to victory.

FOOTBALL

In reviewing the season of the Eagles, there is one fact that stands out above all the rest and that is, the remarkable spirit of fight, and the ability to come back after having started out with some dire defeats. As far as wins and losses count, Lambuth is considered as having a poor season, but wins and losses do not wholly make up a football season. The development of the team in co-operation, the development of each man physically, mentally and morally, and the development of fight and come back; all these things make a football season. Throughout the Eagles' fan ranks there were many at the close of the season who believed that Lambuth could have beaten Teachers, Delta State, and Caruthersville, and I am one of those. How did Lambuth end her season? Why, by decisively thrashing Freed-Hardeman, by scaring Murray to death and by tying Bethel, one of the best teams in the Conference, but a team we could have beaten on any field but a sloppy one. All in all, I say that 1932 shall go down as one of Lambuth's most successful football seasons.

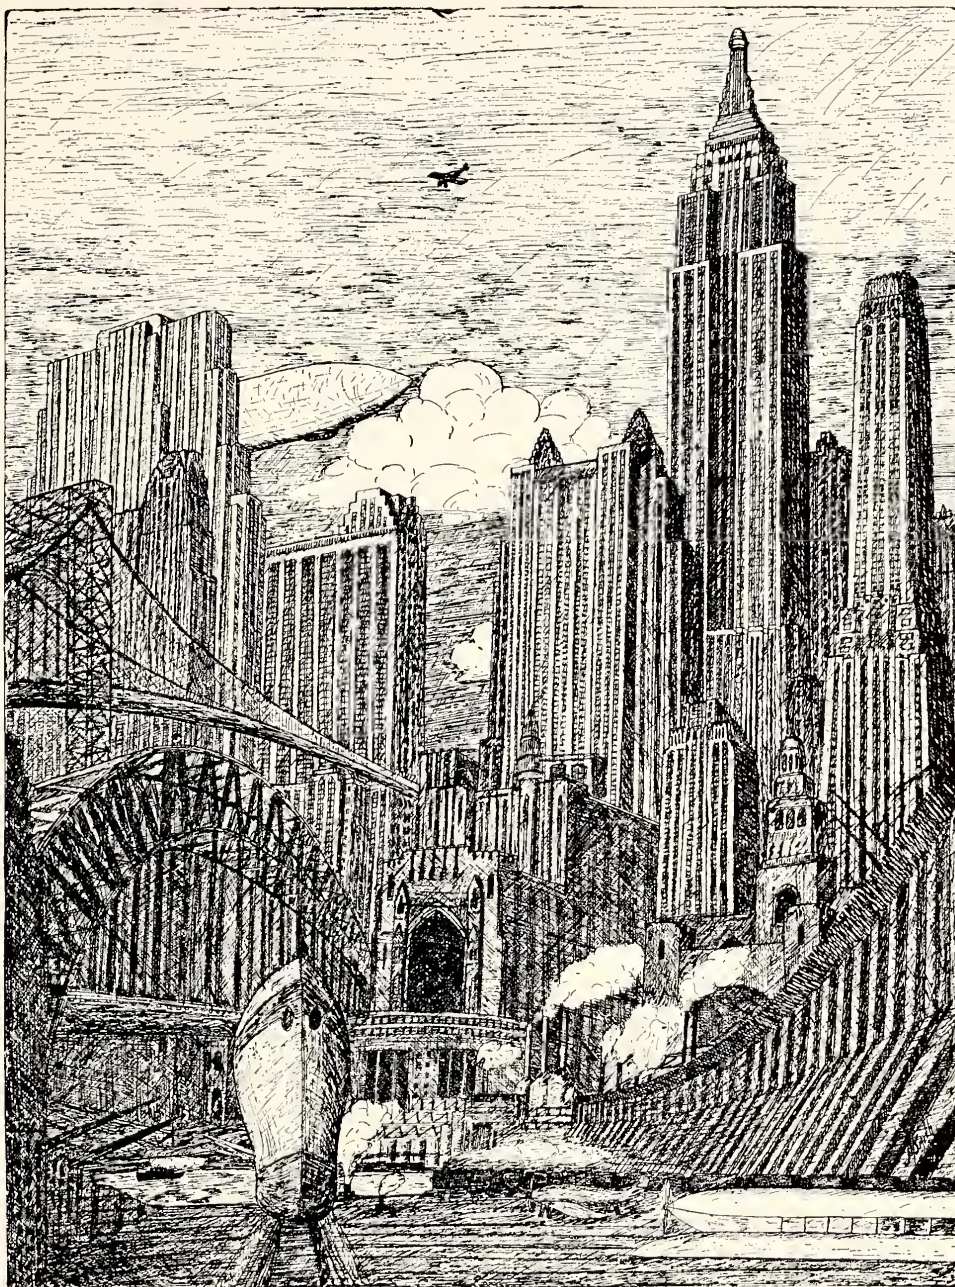

TENNIS

Champion of the Mississippi Valley Conference—That's the title Lambuth's tennis team brought back from Memphis last Spring, after having made a clean sweep of the tournament held at Teachers College. The Eagles had one of the best tennis teams of the South last year and a better one is expected this year. The team will get to strut its stuff this year with such opponents as Southwestern, Teachers, Vanderbilt, Ole Miss and Delta. Fight 'em Lambuth.

BASEBALL

Although Lambuth dropped baseball in 1931, in order to concentrate its spring athletics on tennis and golf, some twenty-five men answered the call for baseball this spring. However, there are only three letter men back this year, but around these men is expected to be built a winning team. A formidable schedule has been arranged, with Lambuth playing such teams as Murray, Bethel, Freed-Hardeman, and T. P. I. "Shotgun" Evans will be Lambuth's best bet as a pitcher, behind whom Lambuth looks forward to winning many games. Baseball is a sport whose athletic and educational values are hard to beat. Here's hoping Lambuth keeps it as one of her major sports.

A skyscraper lances the sky
Like a strong spirit soaring,
A temple to business,
Sacred to industry and honesty.

Tall and towering, lights aglow,
Activities endless, symbol of progress,
Poem in steel and concrete,
Temple of business.

Learning While Serving

From boyhood it was said of Abraham Lincoln that he was a "learner". In his ambition to post himself he sat at the feet of whoever could teach him. In time he overtopped them all.

The "learner" rises above his competitors in all life's activities. He masters conditions because he learns all about them.

We sit at the feet of the public wherever we have stores, learning and posting ourselves of the needs of home and person as best we can.

Diligently applying ourselves to the responsible task of providing those needed when needed is the virtue to which may be traced much of the extraordinary development of this company.

Bill Swift was traveling thru New Mexico. In Albuquerque he stopped at a hotel and fell into conversation with a rather witty clerk. Soon the clerk tried a riddle on Bill:

"My parents have a child who is neither my brother nor my sister, who is it?"

Bill looked puzzled, rubbed his head and finally admitted he had no idea.

"Why, me, of course," laughed the clerk.

Even when admiring the beauty of mountain and plain as he traveled homeward Bill felt that his intelligence had been insulted and dreamed of the time when he could retaliate. At last the moment came. Swift, Council, Diggs and Arnold were engaged in a "bull session" when suddenly Swift asked:

"My parents have a child who is neither my brother nor my sister, who is it?"

There was no answer and after a puzzled silence Swift supplied:

"Why, the hotel clerk in Albuquerque, New Mexico."

FAVORITE PHRASES

Barnes—"I disagree."

Brother Walker—"That may do."

Margrette Caldwell—"I dis can't hep it."

Mary Louise Brooks—"Yes, I think so, don't you?"

TROUBLE FOR NOTHING

He rounded the bend at close on forty. A sudden skid, and the car overturned. They found themselves sitting together unhurt, alongside the completely smashed car. He put his arms lovingly around her waist, but she pulled away.

"It's all very nice," she sighed, "but wouldn't it have been much easier to run out of gas?"

Mr. Cross (in Chemistry)—"What can you tell me about Nitrates?"

Bryant—"They're a lot cheaper than day rates."

Miss Comer—"Do you consider dates fruit?"

Mary Elizabeth Roach—"No, they are usually nuts."

"These women get me down," said Rayburn Reid as he stumbled over a co-ed's feet in the middle of the aisle in the theatre.

※ ※ ※

Ed Terry—"What time is it?"

Brooks Jones—"I don't know."

Terry—"Well, haven't you a watch?"

Brooks—"Yes, but it's an hour slow."

Dear Emily - If you do everything in life with as great a success as you have made out of this lantern you will be one big success - Emily I'm as blue as blue ink come your graduating - achieve me - Lumbuck will miss you -
Love,

Edith.

My dearest "Mama" -

And indeed you have almost been a "Mama" to me these three years. I can never tell you how much I have enjoyed and appreciated our conferences that we've had, our sharing of trouble which were now mine then yours, but you always listened attentively and often gave me some good advice that I'll never forget - I really don't know what might have happened if you hadn't started liking me when you did - Your opinion has surely saved me from more than one hard knock, & I think you're the only one that will ever understand everything - I shall long for you next year when occasionally times get dreary & lonesome like they seem to do at most, but it seems that everyone must part for a time anyway - I'll now quit wishing success & happiness for you in every phase of life. You must not forget to

1932

Write me often & I just want to say that

"Your ready smile & warm face

Have blessed life's path indeed for me."

I love you
Edith
